In all cases involving a child under eighteen including stepparent adoption, a criminal background check must be completed and provided to the Court. A Petitioner who has been found to be indigent may move the Court to appoint a suitable person to conduct the home study at no or reduced expense to Petitioner(s). Petitioner(s) may recommend a named individual as suitable to conduct the home study. If the request for a suitable person to conduct the home study is not approved by the Court, the Court will appoint another person or agency to conduct such study at Petitioner(s)' expense unless Petitioner(s) are indigent. In cases in which Petitioner(s) reside outside the State of Missouri, such subsequent home study or partial home study shall be scheduled and take place unless waived by the Court for good cause.

The written findings of such study or partial home study shall be made available to all parties as soon as feasible and prior to any legal custody or adoption hearing.
