POLICY:

The Office of the Guardian ad Litem (OGAL) will recommend what is in the best interest of the child. OGAL shall exercise independent judgment on what constitutes best interest.

PROCEDURES:

OGAL will recommend what is in the best interest of the child. OGAL shall exercise independent judgment on what constitutes best interest.

- a. OGAL will not act as the lawyer for a child in actions where OGAL has been appointed as Guardian ad Litem (GAL).
- b. the assigned GAL attorney may make the wishes of a child known to the court, if the client has given permission to share that information, but will advocate for the child's best interest, rather than the child's personal preferences.
- c. OGAL will consider the following in making a best interest determination: the child's personal preferences, school records, mental health records of child, parents and proposed caregivers, criminal and child abuse/neglect records of parents and proposed caregivers, substance abuse history of the parents, children and proposed caregivers, therapy reports and reports from any other service providers, social worker reports, interviews with the child, parents and proposed caregivers, personal observations of the interactions between the children and parents or other proposed caregivers and any other information deemed to be relevant.
