Downtown courthouse closure update for hearings scheduled for Monday, February 11, 2019

The Jackson County Circuit Court continues its effort to change the locations of hearings scheduled at the downtown courthouse, 415 E. 12th Street, Kansas City. The building is presently closed as repairs are made due to a water line break. All other courthouses and court buildings are open.

The following judges will hear their cases scheduled for Monday, February 11, 2019 at the following location. The time of the hearing remains the same.

Division 25

Judge Richard Standridge – Criminal Justice Building, 1315 Locust, Courtroom A
Adult abuse cases scheduled for 8:30 a.m.

Division 29

Judge Janette Rodecap – Criminal Justice Building, 1315 Locust, Courtroom A
Cases scheduled for 1:30, 2:30

Division 43

Commissioner David Kimminau – Criminal Justice Building, 1315 Locust
Cases scheduled for 9:00, Div. 27 courtroom; Cases scheduled for 10:00, Witness Rm.

If you do not see your division listed, and you have a hearing scheduled downtown for Monday, February 11, it has been cancelled unless you have heard from your attorney or the judge's staff. Judges and their staffs are working with attorneys to reschedule cases. If your attorney has provided you updated information, then follow the directions provided to you by your attorney.

Information will be posted each afternoon on the Court's website at www.16thcircuit.org in the "Public and Legal Notices" area of the home page.

You can look on the Court's Facebook page at 16CircuitCtMO.

You can also look for case information on Missouri Case.net which is the statewide judicial database. Missouri case.net will show your case number and the latest hearing date posted.

These changes will also be posted on the outside of the downtown courthouse building. For additional information call:
